DUTY OF DISCLOSURE

Your Duty of Disclosure

Before you enter into this insurance with us, you have a Duty of Disclosure under the Insurance Contracts Act 1984. The Act imposes a different duty the first time you enter into a contract of insurance with us to that which applies when you vary, extend or reinstate the contract. This Duty of Disclosure applies until the contract is entered into (or varied, extended or reinstated as applicable).

Your Duty of Disclosure when you enter into the contract with us for the first time

When answering our specific questions that are relevant to our decision whether to accept the risk of the insurance and if so, on that terms? You must be honest and disclose to us anything that you know and that a reasonable person in the circumstances would included in answer to the questions. It is important that understand you are answering our questions in this way for yourself and anyone else that you want to be covered by the contract.

Your Duty of Disclosure when you vary, extend or reinstate the contract

When you vary, extend or reinstate the contract with us, your duty is to disclose to us every matter that you know, or could reasonably be expected to know, is relevant to our decision whether to accept the risk of the insurance and if so, on what terms.

What you do not need to tell us

Your duty however does not require disclosure of any matter:

- that diminishes the risk to be undertaken by us; or
- that is of common knowledge; or
- that we know or in the ordinary course of our business as an insurer, ought to know; or
- as to which compliance with your duty is waived by us.

Non-Disclosure

If you fail to comply with your duty of disclosure, we may be entitled to reduce our liability under the contract in respect of a claim, cancel the contract or both. If your non-disclosure is fraudulent, we may also have the option of avoiding the contract from it's beginning.

PRIVACY ACT 1988

Ken Tame & Associates collects, uses, stores and discloses your personal information, including sensitive information, in order to:

- Decide whether to issue a policy;
- Determine terms and conditions of your policy;
- Compile data which it may share with us as it's agent;
